

CV Åsa Lindhagen

Minister for Gender Equality, with responsibility for anti-discrimination and anti-segregation

Ministry of Employment

Party

Swedish Green Party

Areas of responsibility

- Children's rights
- Democracy and human rights
- Gender equality
- Introduction of new arrivals

Personal

Åsa Lindhagen was born in 1980. She lives in Stockholm and has two children.

Educational background

Master of Engineering, Industrial Economics, Linköping University	2001–2008
Political Science, Course A, Uppsala University	2003
Exchange student, Windber Area High School, USA	1997–1998
Natural Sciences Programme, Roden Upper Secondary School	1996–2000

Positions and assignments

Minister for Gender Equality, with responsibility for anti-discrimination and anti-segregation	2019–
Member of the Riksdag	2018–2019
Vice Mayor for Social Affairs, Stockholm City	2014–2018
Group Leader of Swedish Green Party, Stockholm City	2012–2014
Member, Stockholm Municipal Council	2010–2019
Management consultant, EY	2008–2012
Member, Save the Children Sweden executive committee	2006–2014
President, LinTek (student union for technical faculty students at Linköping University)	2005–2006
Member, University Board, Linköping University	2005–2006
Project work on anti-racism, Save the Children Sweden Youth Council	2004

Following the 2019 change of government, Sweden is governed by the Swedish Social Democratic Party and the Green Party.

Production: Government Offices of Sweden, Stockholm, February 2019
Photo: Kristian Pohl/Government Offices of Sweden

